

DESIGNER

Landscape Designer (Reed Hilderbrand LLC; New Haven, Connecticut):
The Landscape Designer is responsible for: assistance in research and analysis related to project site, including vegetation, hydrology, soils, historic use, and regional context; production of drawings and diagrams related to existing site conditions; development of conceptual design ideas and preliminary site plans; assistance in designing and detailing proposed site improvements including drives, paths, terraces, walls, planting beds, lawns, outdoor structures, among other features; preparation of construction documents including plans, sections details and technical specifications; assistance with construction administration and observation throughout the project, including issuance of sketches, RFI responses, review of shop drawings and other submittals; preparation of management and maintenance manuals; development of graphic representation standard for the project; maintenance of all digital files, including drawings, digital models, and renderings; assistance with project team coordination with project Architect, engineer and other consultants; attendance at meetings; and travel to job sites in the continental U.S. for client meetings, site visits and construction observation; typically travel is 5% of total job hours.

Minimum requirements: Master's Degree in Landscape Architecture from an Accredited Program plus 4 months combined professional and/or internship experience.

Must have: exceptional graphic and verbal communication skills; proven capacity to think conceptually and develop designs independently; proven highly developed time-management, decision-making, and organizational skills; and proficiency in CAD, Adobe Creative Suite, and digital modeling/rendering software (Rhino or Luminon)

Send cover letter and resume to: hr@reedhilderbrand.com

Ref: 00026812. An EOE.

#LI-DNI

